The Benchmark Index rebalances on quarterly basis. Further details regarding the Benchmark Index (including its constituents) are available on the index provider's website at <http://www.msci.com/products/indices/licensing/constituents.html>.

(c) Risk Factors of the Target Fund

The discussion below does not purport to be an exhaustive list of the risk factors relating to investing in the Target Fund. For more information on risks, please see the Target Fund's prospectus which is available at www.blackrock.com.

The Risk and Reward Indicator table demonstrates where the Target Fund ranks in terms of its potential risk and reward. The higher the rank the greater the potential reward but the greater the risk of losing money. It is based on past data, may change over time and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Target Fund. The shaded area in the table below shows the Target Fund's ranking (6 out of highest possible score of 7) on the Risk and Reward Indicator.

Risk and Reward Profile

The Target Fund's Fund Manager's calculated risk indicator is 6 (out of highest possible score of 7). This risk indicator was calculated incorporating simulated historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Target Fund. The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.

The risk indicator was calculated incorporating simulated historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Target Fund.

The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time. The lowest category does not mean risk free.

The Target Fund is rated six due to the nature of its investments which include the risks listed below. These factors may impact the value of the Target Fund's investments or expose the Target Fund to losses.

- Emerging markets are generally more sensitive to economic and political conditions than developed markets. Other factors include greater 'Liquidity Risk', restrictions on investment or transfer of assets and failed/delayed delivery of securities or payments to the Target Fund.
- Currency Risk: The Target Fund invests in other currencies. Changes in exchange rates will therefore affect the value of the investment.
- The value of equities and equity-related securities can be affected by daily stock market movements. Other influential factors include political, economic news, company earnings and significant corporate events.

Particular risks not adequately captured by the risk indicator include:

- Counterparty Risk: The insolvency of any institutions providing services such as safekeeping of assets or acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, may expose the Target Fund to financial loss.
- Liquidity Risk: Lower liquidity means there are insufficient buyers or sellers to allow the Target Fund to sell or buy investments readily.

Risk Considerations

General Risks

The performance of the Target Fund will depend on the performance of its underlying investments. No guarantee or representation is made that the Target Fund will achieve its respective investment objectives. Past results are not necessarily indicative of future results. The value of the Target Fund's shares may fall as well as rise and an investor may not recoup its investment. Income from the shares may fluctuate in money terms. Changes in exchange rates may, among other factors, cause the value of Shares to increase or decrease. The levels and bases of, and reliefs from, taxation may change. There can be no assurance that the collective performance of the Target Fund's underlying investments will be profitable.

Equity Risk

The values of equities fluctuate daily and a Fund investing in equities could incur significant losses. The price of equities can be influenced by many factors at the individual company level, as well as by broader economic and political developments, including trends in economic growth, inflation and interest rates, corporate earnings reports, demographic trends and catastrophic events.

Index-Related Risks

In order to meet its investment objective, the Target Fund will seek to achieve a return which reflects the return of the Benchmark Index as published by the relevant index provider. While index providers do provide descriptions of what each Benchmark Index is designed to achieve, index providers do not provide any warranty or accept any liability in relation to the quality, accuracy or completeness of data in respect of their benchmark indices, nor any guarantee that the published indices will be in line with their described benchmark index methodologies. Errors in respect of the quality, accuracy and completeness of the data may occur from time to time and will be corrected at the Target Fund's expense. During a period where a Benchmark Index contains incorrect constituents, the Target Fund tracking such published Benchmark Index would have market exposure to such constituents. As such, errors may potentially result in negative or positive performance impact to the Target Fund and, by extension, impact its shareholders.

Tracking Error / Investment Risks

While the Target Fund seeks to match the performance of its Benchmark Index, whether through a replication or optimizing strategy, there is no guarantee that they will achieve perfect matching of performance and the Target Fund may potentially be subject to tracking error risk, which is the risk that its returns may not match exactly that of the Benchmark Index, from time to time. This tracking error may result from incurring operational fees and expenses in respect of the Target Fund, screening for corporate involvement in cluster munitions etc. and /or an inability to hold all the constituents of the Benchmark Index in their appropriate proportions, for example where there are local market trading restrictions, and/or where the regulations limit exposure to the constituents of the Benchmark Index.

Counterparty Risk

The Target Fund will be exposed to the credit risk of the counterparties with which it transacts and may also bear the risk of settlement default. Credit risk is the risk that the counterparty to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation or commitment that it has entered into with the Target Fund. This would include the counterparties to any derivatives, repurchase/reverse repurchase agreement or securities lending agreement that it enters into. A formal review of each new counterparty is completed and all approved counterparties are monitored and reviewed on an ongoing basis. The Target Fund maintains an active oversight of counterparty exposure and the collateral management process.

Tax Considerations

The Target Fund may be subject to withholding or other taxes on income and/or gains arising from its investment portfolio. Where the Target Fund invests in securities that are not subject to withholding or other taxes at the time of acquisition, there can be no assurance that tax may not be imposed in the future as a result of any change in applicable laws, treaties, rules or regulations or the interpretation thereof. The Target Fund may not be able to recover such tax and so any such change could have an adverse effect on the Net Asset Value of the shares of the Target Fund.

Currency Risk

The Target Fund may invest in assets denominated in a currency other than the Base Currency of the Target Fund. Changes in exchange rates between the Base Currency and the currency in which the assets are denominated will cause the value of the asset expressed in the Base Currency to fall or rise. The Target Fund may utilize techniques and instruments including derivatives for hedging purposes to control currency risk.

Global Financial Market Crisis and Governmental Intervention

Since 2007, global financial markets have undergone pervasive and fundamental disruption and suffered significant instability leading to extensive governmental intervention. Regulators in many jurisdictions have implemented or proposed a number of emergency regulatory measures and may continue to do so. Government and regulatory interventions have sometimes been unclear in scope and application, resulting in confusion and uncertainty which in itself has been detrimental to the efficient functioning of financial markets. It is impossible to predict, with certainty, what additional interim or permanent governmental restrictions may be imposed on the markets and/or the effect of such restrictions on the Investment Advisers' ability to implement the Target Fund's investment objective.

Emerging Markets

Emerging markets are typically those of poorer or less developed countries which exhibit lower levels of economic and/or capital market development, and higher levels of share price and currency volatility, amongst these, those which exhibit the lowest levels of economic and/or capital market development may be referred to as frontier markets, and the below mentioned risks may be amplified for these markets.

Other Risks

The Target Fund may be exposed to risks that are outside of its control – for example legal risks from investments in countries with changing laws; the risk of terrorist actions; the risk that economic and diplomatic sanctions may be in place or imposed on certain states and military action may be commenced. The impact of such events is unclear, but could have a material effect on general economic conditions and market liquidity.

Regulators and self-regulatory organizations and exchanges are authorized to take extraordinary actions in the event of market emergencies. The effect of any future regulatory action on the Target Fund could be substantial and adverse.

The foregoing list of risk factors does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks involved in purchasing the shares of the Target Fund. Prospective investors should read the Prospectus and Factsheet/Key Investor Information Documents (KIID), and consult with their own advisors before deciding whether to invest in the Fund.

(d) Allowable Investments of the Target Fund

The Target Fund will invest in a portfolio of equity securities that as far as possible and practicable consist of the component securities of the Benchmark Index. The Target Fund will strategically select a representative sample of the securities in the Benchmark Index to construct the portfolio. The Target Fund may hold ADRs and GDRs.
